SARA NICHOLS

CAROLYN YOUNG

New Evergreen Editors Chosen

The 1962-1963 Evergreen editors have been elected by the present staff. Editor is Miss Sara Ann Nichols '63. Co-editor is Miss Carolyn Young '64. The previous system of having two seniors fill these offices has thus been changed. With both a senior and a junior working in this capacity, the work will not be as difficult during the senior's semester of student teaching.

New Evergreen Editors (CONTD.)

Miss Nichols, the recent recipient of the Anne H. Matthews Award, was Assistant Photography Editor for the Evergreen during her sophomore year. Her other activities include SGA, Chorus, Phi Alpha Theta, Science Club, Canterbury Club, Christian Association, intramural sports, and bowling. Her hobbies are playing the French horn, swimming, and tennis.

Miss Young, a resident of Pocomoke City, has worked on both the Holly Leaf and the Evergreen during the past year. Her hobbies include playing the piano and bowling.

The Evergreen, paid for by each student in his activities fee, has been published since the school was founded in 1925. The adviser is Dr. John B. May. The new editors, when asked about any plans for changes in the yearbook, said that there is always a different theme and a different layout. There is also a change in publishing companies. The yearbook was recently sent to a company in Texas. The new company, the American Yearbook Company in Cambridge, Md., will make it possible to have later deadlines. There will be a staff trip to Cambridge to tour the new plant. Anyone interested should contact either Sara or Carolyn. The staff as it stands now includes: John Hanson, Business manager; Carolyn Wilbur, Lay-out Editor. (See "EVERGREEN" - Pg. 2)

Mayhem—A Big Success

The annual Student-faculty production, "Mayhem" seemed to be another spectacular according to comments made by STC students. Comedy combined with satire, political tones, and slapstick made this year's performance comparable, if not superior, to that of last year.

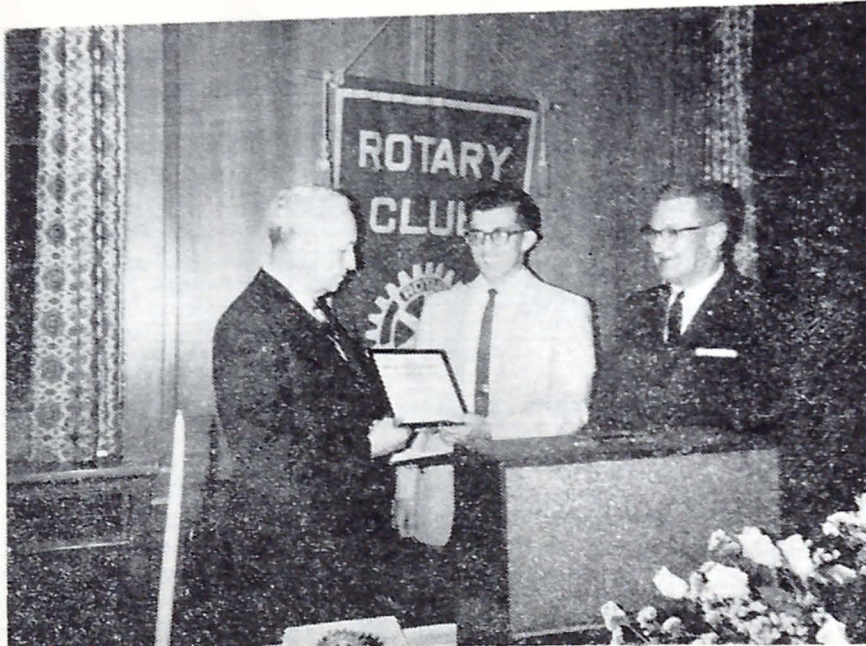

Especially enjoyable to students was the portrayal by Luke Fennell of the energetic "Carolyn Motivator" acting as supervisor for a "typical" student teaching situation. Paul Murrell had only to speak one word before he was instantly identified, and the imagination of "Mayhem" writers revealed. "Look at all those fuzzies!" This comment with its humorous overtones climaxed the characterization by Dotty Seward, another of the pleasurable skits in the performance.

"Be that as it may . . ." improvement could have been fostered in several aspects of the program. It was the opinion of some members of the audience that some of the punch lines were missed because of students' failures to project their voices and speak distinctly.

Moreover, earlier preparation and work on the part of more than just the same conscientious few could possibly be taken into consideration for next years' presentation. The criticism that Mayhem is too campus centered was partially overcome this year, since students included the realm of political satire in the script.

Serving as a fitting climax was the faculty section, especially since it employed some of the phrasing and techniques utilized by the students in the first section.

Recognition should definitely be given to the master of ceremonies, the writers and editors, Hazel Joy, for her well-done task as student director, Miss Addis, and all students participating in staging and acting.

LES MILBOURNE ACCEPTS ROTARY AWARD

Les Milbourne Wins First Annual Rotary Award

At the annual meeting of the Salisbury Rotary Club and members of the Salisbury State Teacher's College Senior Class, Leslie Ray Milbourne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Milbourne of Crisfield, Maryland, was selected as the recipient of the first annual Rotarian Award for Senior Men. This award is given to that senior man who, in the opinion of the faculty and administration, exemplifies the qualities of a good Rotarian and puts service above self.

Mr. Milbourne has been one of the outstanding workers and participants in college activities during his four years at STC. Included among his activities are his services as photographer and member of the Evergreen staff for three years, the Photography Club for three years and president of this organization for two years, gym team for four years, intramural softball and basketball, Men's Dorm Council for two years, Phi Alpha Theta, Circle K Club for two years, and currently treasurer. Mr. Milbourne has also been honored by having been named to the Dean's List and more recently was selected as one of the recipients of the Achievement Key Award.

Mr. Milbourne, a veteran of three years in the Air Force, has also joined the local unit of the Delmarva Skydivers and on weekends and special occasions takes an active part in entertaining observers with a unique skydiving performance. (See sports section for more on this.)

Mr. Milbourne has accepted a teaching position in Baltimore County where he will be a mathematics instructor in the Arbutus Junior High School in September.

EDITORIAL

Quite often I'm sure most of you at STC pick up the HOLLYLEAF, read it, and discard it without ever having any idea of the time, work, and efforts that have gone into the production of such a publication.

At the close of this school year, and my college career at STC, I would like to thank those people who, through their work and faithfulness, have allowed the HOLLYLEAF to be produced.

My thanks first must go to Mrs. Frances Fleming who, as the HOLLYLEAF advisor, has been the mechanic that kept the machinery of the HOLLYLEAF functioning properly.

Secondly, to the S.G.A. goes my gratitude for the assistance and money received from them.

Bouquets to Donna M. Moore, Co-Editor of this paper, who did a yeoman-like job and was able to keep house too, in what she found to be a back-breaking task, I am sure.

The core of any newspaper is its writers and this year I was blessed with true journalistic faithfuls. A "thank you" to: Jim Hartman, Susie Dunstan, Chotts Wilkins, Loretta Fitzsimmons, Ken Roberts, Yates Harris, Bill Cotten, Lute Fennell, Dotty Mace, Noel Farmer, Charles Toth, David McDowell, Gail Street, Diana Andrews, Carolyn Trice, Dawn Finley, and Avery Saulsbury.

I wish the best to next year's editors, Charles Toth and Chotts Wilkins, and only hope that the returning student body will give them the support I received.

MRS. PEARL HEARN

Mrs. Hearn Improving From Recent Illness

The Hollyleaf is pleased to inform its readers that Mrs. Pearl Hearn, house mother for the girl's dorm, is now resting at the home of her daughter after a stay in the Peninsula General Hospital.

Replacing Mrs. Hearn is Mrs. Boyd Larmore from Tyaskin, a graduate of Towson State Teachers College.

The Hollyleaf wishes Mrs. Hearn a continued speedy recovery and extends to Mrs. Larmore a sincere welcome to our campus.

MISS MARGARET ADDIS

Miss Addis Requests Leave of Absence:

Miss Margaret Addis, Social Director at STC for the last three years, has requested from Dr. Devilbiss a leave of absence to begin during the summer of 1962 and to extend through the 1963 academic school year. Dr. Devilbiss has recommended favorable action to the Maryland Board of Trustees.

The reason for this request is that Miss Addis might continue her doctoral program at Harvard University.

Class Officers Are Elected

On Tuesday, May 8 the present Junior, Sophomore, and Freshmen classes elected their class officers for the coming year. Next year's Senior officers are Jack Nerlinger, president; Loretta Hudson, vice-president; Cynthia Creighton, secretary-treasurer; Dottie Seward, Social Committee representative; and Larry Bornt and Beth Reid, SGA representatives.

Jack Nerlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Nerlinger from Cambridge, is 21 years of age and a graduate from Cambridge High School. He is enrolled in the Junior-High curriculum as a Math-Science major here at STC. Jack has been very active in extra-curricular activities. During the past year he was president of the Student Christian Association here on campus as well as serving as the vice-president of Wesley Foundation. Next year he will be first vice-president of the Circle K, a member of the Men's Dorm Council, as well as serving as President of his class.

Loretta Hudson, the vice-president of the in-coming seniors, was also that class' vice-president during her junior year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hudson from Frankford, Del. Loretta graduated from Lord Baltimore High School in 1959. At the present she is in the Junior High Curriculum. During the past three years she has been quite active in the Women's Athletic Association. She has been a sport's manager and vice-president of this organization and will serve as vice-president again next year.

Cynthia Creighton, the 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Creighton from Vienna, is secretary-treasurer next year. She is a graduate from Cambridge High. She plans to teach Elementary School. Cynthia has been active in sports; she has played intramural basketball, softball, and volleyball. She has also served on the Women's Dorm Association.

Dottie Seward, from Catonsville, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Leroy Seward. She is a graduate of Catonsville High. Dottie is in Elementary Education. She served on the Social Committee this past year, participated in Mayhem for two years and was her class' representative in the May Court last year. She has played intramural basketball for three years, and softball and field hockey for two.

Also from Catonsville is Beth Reid, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reid. Beth graduated from Catonsville High in 1959. She is in the Junior High Curriculum. Beth, too, is very active here at STC. This past year she served as the WAA president; prior to this she was WAA secretary. She has played field hockey, basketball and softball for three years. She has been in Mayhem for the past two years. Beth was in the May Court during her freshman year and was Queen of the Christmas Dance this year. At the present she is the junior class representative to the So-

In Passing:

Well, ladies and gents, this is it! We're coming down the stretch and for many it will be down the curtain on a glorious four years here at Salisbury Teachers.

It really does one's heart good to know that without the use of tear gas bombs, burlap guns, other riot equipment, our local Salisbury police force braved the dangers of the on-campus little league diamond to give tickets to some of our after-dark baseball fans. Seems the costs of seats for the game, with no ball players, is a dollar a night. They won't prohibit this, they'll just remove it to remote areas of town and it could be worse!

Nothing from this column is a heap of praise to the cast of MAYHEM, especially to Miss Margaret Addis and Hazel Joy. Lute Short's performance certainly added that extra touch of showmanship that makes for a good production.

The other night, several C.K. members were guests at a local Kiwanis dinner and heard a lively discussion on the Anderson Bill with our own A. L. Fleming keeping the discussion moving with some amusing questions.

It is a shame that more people were not able to see the recent math exhibit that was held in the old gym. There were an amazing amount of materials and just about every student had done an excellent job in making math scheduled for the coming year.

There seems to be so much time for studying for exams that it is hard to see where time for studying for exams come from.

We have heard that Miss Addis has requested a leave-of-absence from her duties at Salisbury Teachers so that she might continue education. I know that the college is going to have a hard time placing this human dynamo. Certainly our best wishes to her new endeavors.

Congratulations to Chotts Wilkins and Charles Toth, next year's editors of the Holly Leaf.

Well folks, sadly but with regrets and plenty of hope for the future and what it might bring we bid a fond (and somewhat tearful) farewell to STC, its fun, its problems and its education that feel was so full, yet inexpensive. It has been a wonderful four years just as are all where you have made wonderful associations.

GOODBYE!

("EVERGREEN" - From Pg. 2) Editor; Ted Blades, Sports Editor; Eleanor Jennison, Photography Editor; Sylvia Harrison, Assistant Editor; and L. T. S. and Sam Lord Photographers. Anyone interested in working the Evergreen will be invited to the first Evergreen meeting on the first Wednesday night of the year. The meetings are tentatively set for Wednesday nights. No members will be welcome. No experience is necessary. The fun and enjoyment of contributing will make the work worthwhile.

Chotts Chatters the Sports

Where has this year gone? It seems as though no time at all has passed since I wrote my first column for this year's first issue of the Holly Leaf. The gym which has contributed immensely to the sports program at S.T.C. has already celebrated its first birthday.

Let's look back on the year 1961-62 from the sports angle. September brought us a freshman class with much potential — potential which has proven itself. Donna Hubbard, Donna Sheets, Wanda Craft, Linda Graef, Lorraine Bell, and Mary Ann Corbett — only to mention a few of the freshmen — have helped us to obtain such an outstanding year.

We women can brag of an undefeated hockey season during which only one goal was scored against our Skyrockets. What a record! Both hockey teams played beautifully as any of the few spectators who turned out to watch them can attest. Remember that thrilling Towson game? I imagine that Kay Romoser won't forget it.

Moving onto volleyball — here again we can boast of a championship team. Volleyball doesn't seem to receive the support and recognition that it deserves, but I hope that this will be corrected next year. The Skyrockets volleyball squad had a number of exciting games. Recall the first three game victory over Boundss-Phillips? How about the game that resulted in a telephone call to the head of the Wicomico County Women's Volleyball League?

Not only did S.T.C. make a good showing at Maryland's sports day, but in my opinion, we walked away with the sports day at Towson. Our girls were undefeated in both team sports, basketball and volleyball.

The varsity basketball season didn't match the other varsity sports in percentage of games won, but the team did show Salisbury students a number of good games. The jayvee team won both of their games. For some reason, the teams seemed to do better on away trips. Not only the varsity team but the cheerleaders will never be able to recall the game at Philadelphia without a tingling sensation of excitement.

Speaking of cheerleaders, the girls were allowed to purchase new outfits which added so much to the group. The freshman cheerleaders gave a certain sparkle to the squad. Too bad we had to lose Suzi, Lucy, and Judy.

Intramurals were well organized and hilarious as usual with the Hearts taking first place.

The addition of the tennis courts has brought forth new talent and has expanded the physical education program with a promise of competitive tennis matches next year.

Although the year was marred by a few minor injuries, no girl suffered anything as serious as did freshman Jim Harris.

The bus trips were more eventful (See "CHOTTS" - Pg. 4)

W.A.A. Elections

On May 14th, the officers of the Women's Athletic Association were elected for the school year 1962-63. It was an open election to all women students. Two of the recently elected officers, Loretta Hudson and Sandy Weaver, served on the executive board this past year.

Sandy Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zeth Weaver, Jr. of Greensboro, Md., has been a member of both the basketball and volleyball teams for the past two years. Sandy is the sophomore representative to the SGA and will be the chorus secretary-treasurer for next year. As president-elect she will succeed Beth Reid.

Working hand and hand with Sandy will be the vice-president, Loretta Hudson. Loretta will fill the position presently held by Joyce Poole. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Hudson of Frankford, Del. Loretta has played varsity basketball for three years and was co-captain this year. Her experience with the WAA includes three years as a member and one year as an officer. In class activities, she has held the office of vice-president in her sophomore year and will be next year's vice-president.

Freshman Ruby Quillen will serve as treasurer of the WAA. Ruby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Quillen of Frankford, Del. During her freshman year, she played jayvee basketball and was a member of the WAA.

The new secretary is Chotts Wilkins from Dundalk, Md., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Wilkins. Chotts is presently a member of the WAA and was a cheer leader during her sophomore and freshman years. During the past year, she was the Women's sports writer for the Holly Leaf.

The WAA has done a splendid job this year and has continued to make the women's athletic program outstanding and unequalled. Special thanks to Beth, Joyce, Loretta and Sandy for their sincere interest and numerous achievements.

English Association Conducts Meeting

On Saturday, April 28, 1962, the College English Association conducted its annual spring meeting at Loyola College. This interested group of high school and college instructors set as their goal to observe the student mind in action.

Salisbury was represented by three freshmen, Barbara Blevins, Suzanne Bigwood and Paul Hull. They joined other students from nearby colleges and universities to participate in an experimental panel discussion. For the first time an organization attempted to contrast and compare the techniques used by individuals taught in this area.

The panel discussion on "Critical Tools and Utilizing Critical Standards" concerned itself mainly with the analysis of "The Draft Horse" by Robert Frost.

The students who attended wish to thank Mr. Burnett for the opportunity to attend the meeting.

A Tribute

This article is an attempt to recognize the girls at Salisbury especially the Seniors who actively participate in sports. Often times persons who are not interested in sports fail to realize the time and ability that such participation demands. Agility, skill, and coordination are assets that not all of us possess and these abilities should be noted and appreciated.

Next year will find Joan Diepold teaching in Baltimore county instead of acting as captain of the Skyrocket volleyball squad. The squad will also lose Lynda Cox and Brenda Foxwell. Brenda who is this year's best athlete will also be missed in her position as forward on the varsity basketball team.

When looking at the hockey team's defensive line next year, a thin goalie named Betty Quigley will be missing. The forward line will feel the absence of Fitz as will the Holly Leaf staff for her news coverage.

We hope that Mrs. Johanna Dubbs won't desert STC but will come back and continue to do such a wonderful job as a referee.

Many of the seniors have participated in intramurals or have served on the WAA board. The executive committee will lose Joyce Poole who has so capably handled the athletic awards for the last few years.

Not only the seniors but all the girls who are active in sports bring Salisbury not only many victories but recognition among other colleges.

Dr. Whitney deserves a hearty thanks for providing a variety of activities and for doing much more than she is required. Thank you and congratulations to the participants and to Dr. Whitney for adding so much to the College and FAREWELL, seniors!

President Announces Progress Report For Coming Year

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss, President of STC, has announced the following improvement projects that will begin as soon as the college closes for the summer: (1) new boilers will be installed whereby heating will be converted from coal to oil; (2) new wiring will be done in the corridor sections of the main building; (3) the auditorium will be painted; and (4) complete painting of the Men's Dorm, both inside and out.

During the last session of the Legislature the following measures were approved for our local college: (1) money was appropriated for a new women's residence to house approximately 100 women. This project should be started by next fall; (2) money has been appropriated for a new maintenance, electrical and repair shop; (3) the second stage of our athletic improvements including for track, baseball and other play areas has been approved and the money appropriated; (4) money was given to buy the property containing the restaurant building on Salisbury

Boulevard so that now our college owns all the land from College Avenue to Allen Road; and (5) planning money has been allocated for a new dining hall, and located for a new building which will house a book store, snack bar and recreation room, and will be available for both day and boarding student's use.

These were a few of the projects outlined for the near future for the improvement of our campus and Dr. Devilbiss assured the Holly Leaf that there were many more projects hoped for.

Murrell's Mayhem

WELL, THIS IS THE SWAN SONG for Murrell's Mayhem. It has been great and I only hope that next year's sports editor will have the fun that I experienced.

A FINAL THANKS TO COACH BENN MAGGS who has helped me throughout the year to get the Sports Section of the Holly Leaf in gear. Special thanks for the pictures and the work to get them to me on time. SAY, MAN have you seen the pictures of our real athletes that have been beautifully displayed in the main hall bulletin board section? I think it flatters most of them.

IT APPEARS, as if Martin Davis' team in softball has the gas to go all the way in the MAA softball league. First he wins the basketball title and then this, seems we need some type of anti-monopoly law.

THAT MAN MUSIAL is still going strong and heavy.

DON'T YOU KNOW what it is, but Bob Taylor again is winning with his slow motion stuff. Either the men are trying to kill every pitch, or our timing isn't as good as we think it is. In case you haven't noticed, folks most people just hit the ball straight up.

OUR BUDGET WILL be hurting if we break as many bats, as we have been doing in recent games. A couple of days ago four were broken in one game.

THE MONEY FOR OUR new athletic fields which are to include baseball and track facilities, has been appropriated and it will be interesting to drop back by on occasion and watch the growing of our school. We just might get right down prosperous.

MY SYMPATHIES to a few of our college athletes who found the cost of parking, without meters, more expensive than parking with meters.

HAVE NOTICED THAT some of the men are doing the job of umpiring the hotly contested (?) women league game. Sounds like fun.

TO ALL OF THOSE who have read Murrell's Mayhem, not too critically I hope, I wish the best (See "MAYHEM" - Pg. 4)

Sky Divers Still Performing Locally

In the October 10 issue of the Holly Leaf ran an article "STC Duo Tries Parachuting." This article was about Ron Tyler and Les Milbourne early attempts at the new sport called "Skydiving." The Holly Leaf made the statement that "It will try to keep an eye on these boys and inform our students when and if they can be seen locally." As a result the Holly Leaf is running another article on the local "Skydivers." Since the last article Ron Tyler has dropped out of college and he is presently working in civilian security in Washington, D. C. Ron still attempts to visit Salisbury whenever he can to continue this fascinating sport. The thrill of this sport swept another college student into trying this adventure into space. Bob Sinagra and his brother made their first jump over Salisbury on February 17. Bob's first comment when he reached the ground the first time was, "Do I have enough time to jump again, today?"

During the winter both Les and Bob continued jumping when the weather was favorable. Les has 17 jumps and Bob has seven jumps at the present time but they both plan to jump a lot more now the weather has started to get better.

The Del-Mar-Va Skydivers boast of a fine safety record. In well over 250 jumps this past year no injury has been reported. But on April 21, 1962 Bob left the Cessna 172 on his fourth static line jump from 2,500 feet plummeting toward the ground at the speed of 32 feet per second. As a result of a head-downward opening position the chute "Roman Canded." At the count of four Bob realizing he had not felt the opening shock immediately looked back to check his canopy. Noticing his foot caught in the risers he began his emergency procedures. With one hand he freed his left foot, and with the right hand he activated his emergency chute. After playing out his lines he waited a LONG time (he thought) for the chute to open. Once the emergency chute inflated Bob had a problem of keeping the two chutes from entangling. After the emergency opened his main chute began to inflate winding around his arm. Bob freed his arm and checked for his landing position. He didn't have long to wait. He hit the ground only 10 seconds after the chute opened. Bob, after gathering up his equipment asked Safety Officer for permission to jump again so that he would not become afraid as a result of the malfunction. Bob has made three jumps since this mishap, and he says, "He glad to have an opportunity to react under an emergency. Now, I will know what to do if it ever happens again." The whole club gave Bob a pat on the back for his quick thinging. Whew!

On April 22, 1962 one week later, Les, Bob, and Ron found themselves on the same jump load for the first time. All three called it "STC Jump." Les, acting as jumpmaster, sported for Ron as he climbed out under the wing for ful than in my freshman year, and Mr. Hall and Mr. Gregory must be acknowledged as faithful supporters to all our girls' teams.

The year isn't over yet, however, for softball intramurals are in full swing under the management of Dottie Mace and Joan Militzer. In softball as in volleyball, S.T.C. took the cake in our sports day on April 28. We really enjoyed the day and hope to plan something similar with Baltimore Junior College next year. Thanks to the boys who umpired the softball game.

1961-62 has been a fabulous year for us, girls, and I'm glad that I had the opportunity in this column to cover such ability and skill. I'd like to take this space to announce that Dottie Mace will be next year's sports editor. I've enjoyed doing this column . . . after all, I had teams to brag about. Thanks to Paul and Donna for being not only good editors but patient ones. That does it. CHOTTS CHATTER-ED THE SPORTS.

for the coming year. To those who are leaving for good, GOOD LUCK and a sincere wish for nothing but the best always.

SEE YA!

PAUL

the first time in five months. On the signal from Les Ron left the wing in the basiv-spread eagle heading toward the ground. The plane circled and Bob scrambled toward the opened door to be ready when the plane again passed over the target. Bob howled, "Here goes nothing," as he left the safety of the wing heading toward the ground on his first free-fall. Les after climbing to a higher altitude, fell over 1,000 feet before activating his chute and gliding toward the ground landing only 30 feet from the center of the target. Bob now is jumping from altitudes of better than 3,000 feet and expects to catch Les by the summer months who now is leaving the plane around 7,000 feet.

Skydivers are constantly accused of indulging in the most dangerous sport known. This is not true. According to the Swiss Alpine Club, more than 1,100 persons died mountaineering in one 16-year period. Football causes approximately 15 deaths annually. Boxing results in about seven deaths annually. An average of five golfers are killed each year either by lightning, a ball in flight or being struck by a club. Sport parachutists, when properly instructed and equipped (Bob was), have an excellent safety record. In over 60,000 sport jumps in 1960 PCA recorder only three deaths; one didn't pull; one pulled too late; and one drowned, all of them could have been avoided.

Skydiving is a fast growing sport. Les and Bob both suggest to join a sport parachuting club if life ever becomes boring.

Commencement Weekend Activities Announced

The weekend of June 2 promises to be the most important of the entire college year. And for some 61 seniors who are candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree, it will be the most important weekend in their four years at STC.

Of course, for many of us, the important thing about the weekend will be that the exams are over, but for others of us the end of exams will take second place to the Junior Prom on Saturday night, Baccalaureate on Sunday afternoon, and Commencement on Monday morning.

Saturday night will see STC'ers dancing to the music of Benny Grier and his orchestra at the National Guard Armory in Salisbury. This Junior Prom is presented annually by the Junior Class, and brings to a close in a big way the end of college for all—except the Seniors whose big day is still to come.

Sunday brings with it Baccalaureate, which starts at 3:00. The speaker will be the Reverend Paul E. McCoy, Minister of the Trinity Methodist Church. His sermon will be "The Great Imperative!" Music for the Baccalaureate ceremonies will be under the direction of Dr. Jessie Fleming, with Maurice Howard and Charles Simpson, both of the class of '64 as the accompanists. The College Chorus will sing "Rejoice, Ye Pure in Heart, Rejoice" and "God of Our Fathers."

After this eventful day comes the ultimate in a college career—Commencement. This "really big day" begins at 10:30 in the morning. The speaker will be Mr. Peter Muirhead, Commissioner for Legislative and Program Development. Mr. Muirhead earned his M.A. degree from the University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y. He has also done graduate work at Syracuse University, New York University, and Cornell University. After Mr. Muirhead's speech comes that awaited moment—the conferring of the degrees. The candidates will be presented their degrees by Dr. Earl T. Willis. Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss will confer the degrees, and Mr. Jerome Frampton, Jr. will award the diplomas.

And so our Seniors will walk off the stage with a diploma, bringing to an end the last four years of their lives. All of us that remain here join in wishing these Seniors "the very best." So with the Junior Prom and Commencement and Baccalaureate, the weekend can hardly be anything else but a huge success. We hope that you are here to help make it so.

Charlotte Wilkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkins of Baltimore, Md. She is a graduate of the Dundalk Senior High School. Since her arrival at STC she has been active in many school activities. She has served as a member of the Women's Athletic Association, two years as a leader, sports editor, and is a member on the Evergreen.

Charles Toth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toth of Greensboro, Md., came to STC after graduation from North Carolina High School. He is a sophomore, enrolled in secondary education and mathematics major. He is a parliamentarian for the SGA and the coming Junior class; he has performed with the Sophanes Players, is a soccer team member, and has been on the Dean's List.

Next year the editors hope to have regular staff meetings and more student participation. Publication will remain bi-weekly. Members of the staff have not yet been selected; appointments will be announced at a later date.

cial Committee.

The other SGA representatives are Larry Bornt, from here in Salisbury. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bornt, and is 17 years old. Larry graduated from Wicomico Senior High School in 1959. Here at STC, Larry is enrolled in the Junior High Curriculum. His main extra curricular activity is bowling.

Sophomore Class

President of the junior class this year is Don Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Johnson of Cambridge. He graduated from Cambridge High. At the present time is in Elementary Education. Don has participated in many school activities while here at college including the Men's Dorm Council and the SGA Club.

Other class officers for this year are: Bob Greer, vice-president; Betty Lee Pilchard, secretary; Fern Blake, Social Committee; Charles Messick, Jr., Parliamentarian; and Jim Whaley, SGA representative.

Freshman Class

Barry Heisler has been elected as president of his class for this year. Barry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Creighton Heisler of North East. He graduated from North East High School. Barry is entering college he was in the Coast Guard stationed in Norfolk City, N. C. Here at STC he is in the Secondary High Curriculum majoring in Biology. During the year he has been in Varsity basketball and softball.

The rest of the officers are: George Cornmesser, vice-president; Susan Bennett, secretary-treasurer; Kaye Raymond, Social Committee representative, and Avery S. and Norman Conway, SGA representatives.
